METHOD OF NAMING STREETS AND ARRANGEMENT OF SAME

The Boulevards, Avenues, Lanes and Places run east and west. Drives, Streets, and Courts run north and south. All names are arranged alphabetically, beginning at the Fort Gaines Park on the East and at the Sand Dunes on the South. The names of Places and Lanes begin with the same letter word from Bienville Boulevard. Names selected are significant to Dauphin Island.

HOUSE NUMBERING SYSTEM

Numbers begin at the Fort Gaines Reservation on the east and at the Sand Dunes or the beach on the south. Even numbers are thereon on the left or south and west sides of streets, and odd numbers are on the right or north and east sides of streets. The numbers change one hundred at each intersection of most streets. No change is noted at some intersections so that generally the numbers will correspond to the numbers on Bienville or on Le Moyne. If the numbers do not match exactly at least they are within the hundred. There are slight exceptions where it is considered a sharp change in numbers will be confusing. Effort has been made to let numbers facing each other be consecutive, if possible. Even though a street turns, it is treated as it began when it intersected a main artery (except Malibon Place which is treated as though Mississippi Street is its main artery). Therefore, for example, all of the numbers on the north side of DeSoto Avenue are considered as though DeSoto were a straight avenue and ran east and west as an avenue. Numbers run from east to west even in the Places and on the larger numbers are as one enters and diminish eastwardly.

NOTE

The approximate distance between Ft. Gaines and Ft. Mifflin is 2 1/2 miles and the distance between Ft. Mifflin and Ft. Moultrie is 2 1/2 miles long. Dauphin Island is approx. 1 1/2 miles long.
